Option 1

Please have the following certification completed by a qualified professional in the field of disability services, special education, medicine or psychology. The certifier must be a recognized expert who attests to the visual, perceptual or other disability that limits the applicant's use of standard print.

Appropriate certifying experts may vary from disability to disability. The following are examples of qualified professionals who may certify an applicant. If you have questions about who is a qualified certifying professional, email Member Success at Custserv@LearningAlly.org.

- Special education teachers
- Vocational rehabilitation counselor
- Ophthalmologists, for certifying blindness
- Neurologists, for certifying perceptual disability

NOTE: Principals, general education teachers, librarians, guidance counselors and parents ARE NOT typically qualified certifiers unless they have specialized backgrounds.

Certifier Statement (required)

I attest to the physical basis of the visual, perceptual or other disability limiting the applicant's ability to effectively use standard print. I also attest to my competency to make this certification.
